

Rodney Truong

BIO

Born in Hayward, California, Rodney Truong is a digital based artist who grew up in the Bay Area inspired by works of pop culture. Currently attending San Jose State University under the Digital Media Art program, Rodney creates interactive works that are humorous and heartwarming to all. His main interests lie in working in technology to explore the translation of traditional ideas into digital spaces. As an aspiring video game designer, he hopes to give back to the community that inspired him to explore the world of art.
